CERAMICS B

Mrs. Leavitt's Ceramics Students have glazed their Mandala plates and they are fabulous! Students used their skills from the first semester and improved upon them for this semester to create some wonderfully balanced and clean patterns.

Students in Ceramics B have been busy experimenting with how to create ocean inspired textures in clay in order to create some abstract Sea Forms. They began by finding inspiration in examples and then created texture tiles in two different clay bodies in order to make conscious decisions in their final projects. Here are some of their pieces in progress.

Learning how to use a film camera is not easy, but the students in Black & White Photo are working hard and starting to get some wonderful results. These are a few of their images as they have tested out how the cameras work and how to balance the aperture and shutter speed with the ISO of their film.
